Captain Semmes, of the Sumter, has been promoted to the rank of Commodore.

Rev. Mr. Hawks has been appointed Chaplain to the Confederate Congress.

Rev. Dr. Hawks, of Louisiana, has been appointed Chaplain to the Confederate Congress.

Mr. Wilkinson introduced a bill to incorporate the Yadkin Valley and Western Railroad Company. Ordered to be printed.

The Revenue Bill again came up for consideration.

A message had been received from the Senate proposing to go into an election at one o'clock for the Trustees of the University. The House concurred and voted at that hour.

The consideration of the Revenue Bill was again proceeded with.

On motion, the House adjourned.

EVENING SESSION.

The sixteen Standing Rooms were examined in the further consideration of the Revenue Bill.

Boy Blue thinks the best leather for the manufacture of soldiers' cartridge boxes, those who supply any article can get cards in Millersville, Lancaster county, at the Penitentiary, at six dollars per pair. Money will not buy them—nothing but dog or other skins. The great question is now presented to the people of the South—Shall they fight without dogs or clothes.

Colonel Percy Wyndham, of the First New Jersey Cavalry, has resigned "temporarily, and unconditionally."

Captain Ap Adolphus Gregory.—The cheering, but not altogether unexpected, intelligence of the capture of a gunboat, in Stono River, was received in the city yesterday evening shortly after seven o'clock. Rumors were in circulation that an attack upon the gunboats that have been operating in Stono undisturbed, and marauding along its banks, would be made in pursuance of a plan conceived by the commanding officers of the post.

Heavy firing was heard in the city about 4 o'clock.—This was the hour at which it is believed the attack was commenced. The gunboat first attacked was the John P. Smith, a three-masted steamer, carrying eleven guns, and a crew represented at from one hundred and fifty to two hundred men. After a sharp engagement of one hour, in which the boat's crew suffered severely, she was successfully surrendered and taken possession of by our forces. Another gunboat, which came to the assistance of the John P. Smith, was driven off badly crippled.

The only casualty we have heard of on our side was one man wounded.

The interest of the hour prevented us from getting fuller details of the number of our troops engaged in this brilliant action. They were commanded by Lieut. Jos. A. Yates on one side of the river, and by Major J. Weismin Brown on the other. The capture was made between Legare's place and Grimball's plantation. The prisoners taken are expected to arrive in the city this morning. An important lesson has been given to the enemy, to be followed, we hope, by another and still greater triumph.—Ch. Mercury, 31st.

A Bright Page in our History.—When the present bloody struggle shall have closed, and Southern Independence shall have been established, there is one page of history to be written, which will reflect great credit upon President Davis, and through him upon the whole Confederacy. That page says the Soldier's Friend, will read as follows:

"Though the Federal government issued many brutal proclamations outraging civilization and humanity; though the abolition government acted with sufficient barbarity to justify the Southern government in raising the black flag; yet President Davis never uttered one extreme sentiment; never displayed any animosity in any of his proclamations, was exceedingly slow to inaugurate any measure of retaliation; and, when such measures were imperiously demanded, they were always moderate, showing that they emanated from a man who much regretted the necessity of adopting such means of protection. The cool, dispassionate style of his retaliative proclamations does credit to his head; the spirit of moderation in which they were dictated, reflects honor on his heart."

Republican Party Breaking Up.—The following is from the New York Herald of the 17th instant:

There is much canvassing and consultation by the Republicans in Committee of the Whole on the state of the party, upon the best means of preserving their political organization from destruction. They talk of reorganizing the party, but in what manner does not yet appear. Greeley has been extremely busy. He is not organizing black brigades, as has been supposed, but reorganizing the Republican party. Some of the leading radicals who were in consultation with him last night shake their heads ominously, and declare that this is the darkest day the country has yet seen. Prominent Republicans acknowledge that they have lost their hold upon power in all except some New England States. Some of them predict peace as early as next June.

New Orleans Gossip.—The Jackson, Miss. Crisis gives the substance of recent information derived from a lady who lately left New Orleans, after having vainly sought for three months, to obtain a passport. We subjoin extracts:

The administration of Banks differs but little from that of Butler, both of them being tyrants, fanatics, robbers and Massachusetts Yankees.

Although no information of a reliable character of Southern affairs is allowed to see the light through the papers of that city, yet our people there are kept fully advised of the success of our arms. Southern papers find their way in, from time to time, and the information circulated from hand to hand.
